

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

THE INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE OF INTERIOR DESIGN

NOVEMBER 2005

Discoveries by Designers

The Belvoir Flair

Belvoir for Modern Living has a new Florida location, which is open to the public. Among the rarities is a 1953 Paolo Venini room divider (right), one of three made by the master glassblower. "They have serious pieces," says Charles Allem. Owner Jeffrey Ligan recently introduced a line of lacquers and furniture.

Belvoir for Modern Living, 859 NE 125th St.
North Miami, Florida 33161, 786-897-4500

Weaving a New Tradition

Robert Stephenson has ventured away from classic Persian and north Indian carpet styles. Inspired by architectural details such as Roman inlaid-marble floors, he has teamed with designer Melissa

Wyndham to create a handwoven collection. Hugh Henry, of Mlinaric, Henry and Zervudachi, is a client. "They're good-looking, beautifully made and fit very easily into either traditional or modern contexts," he says.

Robert Stephenson
1 Elystan St.
London SW3 3NT
44-20-7225-2343

